

Calling all professionals from galleries, museums and visual arts organisations in England who are working with, or programming work with, young people:

This briefing seminar will focus on new policy and initiatives concerning young people's participation, inclusion and education in the visual arts. As well as sharing information, the event will present opportunities for professionals in the visual arts and education to contribute to the delivery of related projects and programmes.

The themes for the day are:

- Working with Children's Services
- Developing cultural workforce skills
- Changes in formal education

The event will enable you to:

- Get an overview of current policy and initiatives
- Hear presentations from – and meet – some of the key people involved in youth and arts- focused strategies
- Explore and debate the impact of strategies on the gallery and museum sector
- Get the latest updates on the delivery of the Diploma in Creative and Media and Find Your Talent (the cultural offer)
- Access relevant agencies, good practice, and resources

Speakers include:

- Representatives from Local Authority Children's Services
- Youth Justice
- Arts Council England
- National Society for Education in Art and Design
- Creative Partnerships
- Creativity, Culture and Education (CCE)
- Creative and Cultural Skills
- Skillset

The initiatives which will be covered are:

- Children's Services: Local Authority Agreements, Youth Justice and the Arts
- Formal education: New Key Stage 3 curriculum, new primary curriculum, Find Your Talent, the Diploma in Creative and Media, Learning Outside the Classroom
- The cultural workforce and young people: Teaching Outside the Classroom, Visual Arts Blueprint, Creative Apprenticeships
